For Women

If you're a woman, I don't recommend taking testosterone if your goal is to lose weight because it can cause you to look and sound more manly.

...It's definitely not worth losing your femininity, in return for losing your love handles.

However, clenbuterol and anavar are 2 very powerful weight loss steroids that will help women lose fat fast; without causing you to develop any manly features.

For Men

Taking any of the compounds listed in this article will give you good results (assuming you don't go on a massive junk food binge!). Another option is to stack all 4 steroids together, which'll help you burn fat a lot faster.

We are currently living in a world that's striving to lose weight. People who are overweight are constantly being reminded that they're one of many in an obesity epidemic.

People who have an average waistline remain unsatisfied and strive to look like the fitness models/bodybuilders in magazine and on their their Facebook newsfeeds.

Unfortunately, losing weight is often a slow and tedious process. Counting calories, weighing yourself everyday and cutting out junk foods.

As a result, many men and women decide to take cutting steroids.
