When Penny Stock Egghead first appeared (not that long ago) I was skeptical how well it would compete against the other penny stock email alert services out there, and let's face it there are a lot of them.

I have to admit my skepticism was short lived as feedback from readers has been phenomenal. In fact of all the copies we have sold from this site we have yet to have any negative feedback, and certainly zero returns. This is highly unusual.

Indeed our own experiences with the Penny Stock Egghead have been impressive too.

During my adolescent years, my parents always stressed how important it was to have your money work for you and that you, in turn, work hard for your money. While these two warring visions of finances do not always coincide, I've found to make a comfortable living, both points of view are entirely necessary.

Unless you have an unlimited source of funds, a sizable trust fund, or can psychically pick the winning lotto numbers, investing is a great way to make the money you've earned work harder for you. Leaving your savings in a money market or certificate of deposit earns you low interest rates and locks in a block of your money on someone else's time frame.

What has long bothered me about investing is paying a broker to invest my money, knowing that broker makes money...even when I don't. For every trade, they take their cut. After losing money steadily when my broker managed it, I pulled out my portfolio and decided to take the reins.

I've been looking into investing as a retail investor, mostly so I can take a greater role in my financial future and have the flexibility to make the best money moves possible for myself. While there are scores of products designed to help people like me, Penny Stock Egghead hit a resounding chord that really echoes my sentiments.

What Penny Stock Egghead does is let you know about the next up-and-coming penny stock on the market, so you are poised to buy a winning stock on the cheap and sell when the price takes off. With my limited investment fund, Penny Stock Egghead was the ideal fit.
