If you are looking for a cheap family vacation you might not have Disneyland, Universal Studios or a Las Vegas family vacation first on your agenda. Don't despair; there are many places that can even make your vacation trip a memorable one. To accomplish it however, you have to be creative in planning for such a cheap vacation. Although six flags theme parks are not on the list it is possible to have even more fun with careful planning.

Family Camping Vacation

Among the ways for a budget vacation, Camping is one of the best. If you ever have vacationed as a family on a budget, then you may already have some of the camping gear that are required. With a tent and sleeping bags as well as a few bare necessities you are ready to go. Make sure though, that everyone is in agreement to camping out. If not it might turn out to be a nightmare.

Discount Family Vacation

Another way to get a decent family vacation is to look for the discounted vacations if they are not having idea about camping. Go online; there are many websites that offer such discounted vacation packages. Some of them offer budgeted rooms and bargain vacations if you just know where to look. Perform a web search for 'Discounted Travel' and you will find scores of options. You will also find that hotel rooms can be reserved using these travel discount centers for half the price if you bargain shop and search several of the websites. Isn't that something!?

Bargaining

Bartering for your vacation is another way and actually a very real possible option as well. You will find websites which will offer trade-outs for families looking to vacation in your area enabling you to vacation in their area. This can even be a vast savings. The bartering options could be a surprise for you. Let's say that you and your family wants to have a vacation along the Gulf Coast Beaches, you may be surprised to learn that a family desires a vacation for the Bristol Motor Speedway race in August and if it just so happens that you live in Bristol, you may have a family vacation opportunity of a lifetime.

Planning is the Clue

Families vacationing with a budget on a shoestring do have to pull out all of the stops in order to realize a happy medium that everyone in the family can live with. You might need to switch on your computer, go online and plan accordingly. When planning a family vacation you must have flexible attitude. If you think camping is the route you need to take but your teenage daughter is afraid to tent camp or your nerd of a son can't stand it, then search campgrounds for the very simple cabins that often are nothing more than a log home shell with bunk beds and modern bathroom. Still, if they need a locked door over night, a simple $10 or $20 will make them safe at night.

You can and should involve the whole family to look for many cheap vacations that they can take. It is absolutely not necessary that you should go to Disneyland to have a memorable vacationing. You can postpone the Dollywood's water park trips as well as other theme parks for the next year's vacation. Instead you could look for some locations that can make you all spend the time together and have a wonderful time that even creates a bonding between the members.
