

Spiritual leaders of Barack Obama

Supporting Soviets negro activist Frank Marshall Davis and preacher of Racialist Church - Jeremiah Wright are the main ideological fathers of democratic candidate for US president.

“Frank” the teacher

Although with reference to many matters Barack Obama opinions are not quite clear, one thing is sure - Obama would have been quite different without Frank.

Frank exerted big influence on Obama's political opinions and it was described by Obama in his autobiography "Dreams from My Father".

Frank was mysterious negro poet and journalist who initiated the young Obama into the secret of world of political ideas. Obama wrote, that thanks to Frank he competently selected his friends in university studies. They were mainly people with radically left wing views, negro or foreign students. Frank also taught Obama that he should not trust in white people and especially not to believe in equality of chances. He warned Obama, that on university studies he would be not educated but trained by white people.

Hidden name revealed

Obama remembers Frank's education until now, so it is not possible, that he forgot his name.

However this name does not appear in the book and may have been unknown, if professor Gerald Horne from Columbia University, sympathizer and researcher of communism, had not identified Obama during speech on occasion of transferring archives of US Communist Party to the New York University. Horne reminded Frank Marshall Davis, the afro- American activist, who in 40ties settled on Hawaii where he met among others the white woman, who married the student from Kenya. The child of this marriage returned soon to the US to the place left by Frank. Today this child is the candidate for US president.

Frank on Hawaii

Who was Frank Marshall besides the fact, that he met Obama's parents? Majority of media is not very interested in this matter and is limited to the questions, if Obama consumed too much drugs due to Hawaii episode of his life. The fact, that Davis influence on his intellectual development is very important for Obama, makes that the mysterious Frank is worth careful watching.

Frank Marshall Davis was born in 1905 in Kansas. In the State College he was one of 26 black students. He had studied journalism, but he has not completed his degree. He had literature skills and one of the teachers encouraged him to write the poetry. In 1927 he went to the Chicago where he started working as a journalist. Since the beginning he was interested in problems of negro society. He often told, that when he was 5 years old, he avoided lynch from not much elder white boys. In Chicago he was columnist to African - American press, he also tried to write stories. In 1931 he moved to Atlanta as the journalist he was engaged into struggle against law, which allowed for lynch. He converted Atlanta Daily World newspaper which was issued every few days, into every day journal – the first big newspaper made by the black for the black people. The newspaper presented quite moderate views – they demanded equality for the black and struggled against the law allowing for lynch.

Journalism was not enough

The journalism, although very engaged, was not sufficient for Davis. He dreamed about literature career. His literary production began to be appreciated by the White.

Thanks to their encouragement, in 1935 he appeared again in Chicago. He began to appear in the intellectual society. Soon he joined Associated Negro Press Agency in which he became executive editor. Davis seemed to be far from communism at that time. He even signed special statement of the agency, which rejected communism as a remedy to big depression in USA.

Roosevelt administration according to New Deal politics favored integration initiatives in black society. .New Deal was the kind of left wing experiment, but it was carried out according to American democracy standards. Remaining in New Deal guaranteed Davis presence in public life of the country.

What were the real Davis opinions concerning communism if we consider his signing of the statement seriously, his attitude to communism was skeptical. In this declaration Davis rejects laws should be made with democratic measures. The problem is, that at that time attitude of US Communist Party was the same. This party was simply the representative of the Soviet Union interests in USA. In the years of Big Crisis many intellectualist expected end of capitalism and coming of quite new system.

Davis joins the Communist Party

In 1932 the previous chief of US Communist Party William Z. Foster issued book “Toward Soviet America” in which he appended to rebuild the country according to Soviet formula, which he wanted to achieve using the economic turmoil..

The response of F.D.Roosevelt administration to Great Crisis was New Deal Program “Socialism by America”. Among others it was based on supporting of trade unions and anti racist movements. Democratic legitimization by the White House deprived communists of argument of necessary revolution. For tactic reasons US Communist Party supported the administration and Democratic Party, it as well rejected opposition activity against democratic US administration. It introduced many people to the radical left Congress of Industrial Organizations which supported Roosevelt administration and New Deal. CIO was organization especially opened for representatives of black society. It was in accordance with political strategy of communists, who were talking advantage of the local conflicts in order to take the rules. The main power of American communism would be rebellion of the color, oppressed minority.

According to Gerald Horne, Frank M. Davis joined the communist party in 1943. His membership was secret, it would have been considered as subversive activity. Davis did not need to feel the conflict of loyalty. Roosevelt and Stalin had been the allies for almost two years.

A Soviet Agent?

In 1948 Davis left USA and went to the Hawaii.

This event is often presented as the escape of the idealist to other world, where marriage with white woman did not make angry reactions. Escape from intolerance to the place, where there is no white people domination. However this leftist legend is not in accordance with the facts.

Davis was encouraged to go to the Hawaii by Paul Robeson black actor and singer who had also been secret member of the CPUSA. End of 40-ies was the time, at which Un – American Activities Committee revealed influence of communists to people of culture and art. At that time the Hollywood black list was made. Many artists sympathizing with communism had to finish their career.

Davis might have experienced the same. Moving with his wife to Hawaii enabled him further activity.

Secret members of US Communist Party were to take responsibility for organizing local movement. So Davis got soon job in Honolulu Record, the trade union newspaper controlled by communist party. His journalism was going to organize local color people in trade unions. Davis attacked big business and administration.

He also wrote poetry glorifying Red Army and future revenge of the black on their white torturers.

If someone thinks that Hawaii is unimportant place of isolation, can't be more wrong. Hawaii was very important for security of USA and was observed by Moscow with care.

An FBI investigation showed that Davis often visited coast and took pictures of it. If had nothing to do with his journalist activity. According to FBI files Davis attacks on American policy, were not different from communist propaganda abroad and from radicals in the USA.

Davis and pornography

The "Daily Telegraph" revealed not long ago one more Davis secret..

He wrote, under pen-name, pornographic novels based in part on his experience. They include sadomasochistic and even pederast plots. These novels exist only as manuscript, but their authenticity was confirmed by researcher of Davis literary output and editor of his poetry.

Frank M. Davis was discovery of university world at the end of 20th century. Active leftist societies made him one of their heroes. Poet and fighter for racial equality is very good as the picture of political movement. However according to recently revealed it is difficult to recognize him as someone else than soviet agent, realizing Stalin guidelines.

Candidate shaped by communism

In the 70ties, when Obama's white grandfather presented him to Frank, Davis importance was not so big as it was twenty, thirty years before. But his ability to appeal young's minds line Obama.

He transferred to Obama his views and abomination of American civilization.

He taught him distrust to American democracy and its political institutions..

Adherent of Stalin policy created political views of the candidate for Us president Barrack Obama. Avoids this matter, but radical leftist organizations in the USA, referring directly to Marxist ideology and also Soviet Union policy do not have doubts - he is their candidate

Jeremiah Wright - Crusade of Black Christ

Preacher Jeremiah Wright is no longer in the close circle of Obama. Democratic candidate for president condemned his political views. The preacher's views have been unchanged for 28 years of their relationship and Obama had never before hard objections to Wright's radical views. Wright defined and amplified Obama's faith. He carried out Obama's church wedding ceremony and baptized his children.

Controversial speeches

Like in case of Frank M. Davis Obama didn't reveal all truth about the preacher from United Church of Christ.. Probably because the preacher's teaching was similar to that of Frank M. Davis, at least in relation to the country of which Obama wants to be the President.

Obama even told lies to excuse controversial sermons of the preacher. In March of this year Wright became famous thanks to his lecture, in which he condemned US and US relations. He accused US administration of conspiracy against the black people..

According to Wright the white people give Negroes weapon and drugs.

They invented HIV to use it against the black. "God condemn America" instead of traditional "God bless America" is the sentence including Wright's philosophy. It is clear that 11 September attack is recognized by the preacher as the punishment deserved by this country.

Barrack Obama, forced to react to so strong words, stated, that Wright is from the generation, which remembers racial segregation and experienced many wrongs from the white people. He isolated from these words but not from preacher himself.

"The feeling of humiliation, tear and doubt has not left this generation" said Obama.

However the Washington correspondent of information portal news max.com.

Not so poor and not so persecuted

Ronald Kessler, found out, that preacher Wright, who represents humiliated and oppressed people, has the life, which may be subject of envy of many Afro - Americans. He was from negro middle class family. His mother was the teacher. Wright completed prestige Central High College. The white student were approximately 90% of students and at least 75% had Jewish parentage. There were no conflicts between black and white students. There were friendship and kindness. Also famous comedian Bill Cosby graduated from this school.

Bill often criticized Afro- Americans, that they blame white people for all their failures.

The black graduates from Central High entered the middle class and made career in culture and public activity. So did Wright. Where was his attitude of contempt for USA and American values from?

One step too far

In opinion of Fox News commentator Juan Williams Wright is typical representative of the black establishment, who takes advantage of the frustrations his adherents to get their support. In this case however he overdid. When he told, that Obama agreed about his views, but he can not admit it, because he is politician, he had to retire (to became political pensioner).

The teacher had to go away in order not to be harmful far his student.

Jeremiah Wright is an example of progressive preacher. He is the preacher, who is against praying in the schools and promotes homosexual marriage. He often preaches wearing traditional African clothes and his afro -centric views are combined with anti-American attitude. In the sixties he was a marine. He was medical technician taking care of health of president Lyndon Johnson.

Wright proved to be not only charismatic preacher, but also efficient organizer United Christ Church, which was managed by Wright until not long ago, includes now 8 thousand members. On the beginning it had only several people.

Christ as a black guy

The doctrine of this Church is special mixture of Marxism and black liberation theology. It has to make radical rebuilding of American society. Basic ideology of the church dates from the 30ties. It arises from Nation of Islam movement, which combined elements of Islam and Christianity. Main point of this ideology is the belief that the Negroes have a great role to play in history.. The most famous representative of this movement was Malcolm X, killed in 1964 activist - recognized today as one of the most important, besides Martin Luther King. Afro - American of XXth century. Malcolm left Nation of Islam and become sunnit. He has remained the sign of black Americans struggle for their social status. Malcolm was big inspiration for James Hale Cone the man, who created doctrine of black liberation theology.

This ideology was to replace the traditional Christianity and become the tool of integration of the blacks against the white people. The year of issue of his most important book:

"Black Theology and Black Power was at the time apogeum of cultural revolution of the end of the sixties and coincided completely with it"

The main views of the book combined Marxism with the idea of historical role of black people. Cone followed Malcolm belief that Christian Church of the white people is actually the racist Antichrist. The Cone's doctrine, despite its Christian name, isolated directly from Bible instruction.

Being the Christian according to this doctrine was something opposed to the Christ.

Cone rejected among others the principle of non violence and stated that abomination of the white people has nothing to do with the racism.

When on the beginning of the 60ties the United Church of Saint Trinity was arising, the social idea of its teaching has just been created. Preacher Jeremiah Wright had not to add anything to Cone's teaching except his personality, charisma and force of conviction. When he took over the rule of the church, thanks to his charisma he appended to thousands of the new followers. His success is the effect of his passion. His sermons are very impulsive. He shouts as a raper. Wearing the color clothes shouts about great mission of the blacks and predicts judgement day for the white people. He shouts to the journalists. He is always proud of his christianity even when he praises Louis Farrakhan, the radical leader of Nation of Islam.

Farrakhan announces openly his anti-Semitism and recognizes Adolf Hitler as the great man. His speeches are not different from those of Iran president or Osama bin Laden. Also Wright condemns US support for Israel and calls it "Support for the state terrorism".

Obama has denied that he shared any of Wrights views only after the media started to investigate this issue. Before he had often tried to justify the preacher and he claimed that he wasn't aware of his most controversial statements - despite that they were and are easily available on the net and cited by numerous media. Richard Cohen from "Washington Post" tried to explain this attitude with the candidate's opinion that any medial critics of him is only a sign of racism or the Clinton marriage conspiracy.

Yet the views propagated by Michelle Obama show that communist ideology heritage have always been present and accepted by his circles and himself.
