The Problem:

Are you bombarded with popup ads? Seeing new toolbars in your browser? Does your home page change to unwanted/unknown destinations? Bombarded with irritating spam? Perhaps strange software loads when you first start your computer, or your favorites file may have new entries that you don't recognize and don't want. If this is happening to you, your PC (Personal Computer) is most likely infected with adware spyware, spybot spyware, trojan viruses or other harmful internet parasites.

What Is Happening?

Your even the police, start calling you!).

To Determine If You Are At Risk, Ask Yourself These 3 Questions:

1. Have I downloaded files, documents or free mp3 music online?
2. Has my computer suddenly started getting annoying ads popping up on the screen?
3. Have I suddenly noticed that my computer is running extremely slow?

What Is The Solution?

There is only one solution to this problem and that is to protect yourself and your privacy with a Spyware protection solution. Spyware
