

Window Cornice

Article: Learning the basics to making a wooden window cornice

Most people are familiar with window treatments, but many people may not be familiar with an upholstered wooden window cornice. Individuals familiar with wooden window cornices may have long desired the know how to be able to create a customized wooden window cornice.

Step by step instructions are now available online for people wishing to create a wooden cornice, while saving hundreds of dollars by doing it themselves.

Prior to coming up with the idea of creating an e-book where folks could download the step by step instructions which would allow them to be able to create their own cornice, the creator of Easy Cornice had always admired professionally made wooden window cornices and wanted to learn how to make them for herself, comments Jo.

Several years ago, the creator of Easy Cornice decided to research the craft of making wooden window cornices. Reflecting back on how her story first got started, the creator, Jo, remembers how she would frequent home stores. She would go to stores where she took very specific notes as to how a wooden window cornice was assembled.

The creator then took these notes back home and began creating her own wooden cornices. We wanted to be able to share the simple secrets with others, who, for whatever reason, wanted to avoid having to hire a home interior decorator. It really is quite simple for anyone to do and the best part about creating a customized wooden window cornice is that someone doesn't even need to know how to sew or have any wood working experience or special tools. The creator of Easy Cornice also notes that someone who creates a wooden window cornice can easily save hundreds of dollars on just one average size wooden window cornice.

Step by step instructions can now be viewed and ordered online for 29.95 with an immediate download at <http://www.easycornice.com>

Some interesting facts about cornices: A cornice is considered an ornament that is positioned horizontally at the top of your window with a frame or molding. Cornices always add great value to windows. Cornices highlight and add great depth to any window. There is no comparison to a window without any form of decoration such as a cornice compared to a lifeless and dull, bare window. Depending on the fabric used as well as the size of ones cornice, the cost of a wooden window cornice could easily range anywhere from 300 to more than 1,000 on a single cornice, depending on a professional decorator's pricing. Another benefit of a window cornice is the upkeep as there really is none, meaning that the cornice will never need to be taken down for cleaning, unless if there is a desire to change the fabric, which can easily be done. Once made, cornices can easily be installed onto your wall with brackets.

A wooden cornice is made from solid wooden construction which is another fine benefit because this means that the cornice will truly last a lifetime. Cornices can be custom-made to fit any window in any home with the homeowners selected style and color and not someone else's.

Simple step by step instructions with pictures help guide decorators while they will undoubtedly save hundreds of dollars or more, on just one cornice. Making ones own upholstered wooden cornice is easily accessed at <http://www.easycornice.com> where these mentioned step by step instructions can be instantly downloaded with an e-book that allows each decorator to immediately get started on building their own wooden window cornice. If decorators are hesitant about purchasing the entire e-book right away, they have the option of receiving an introductory chapter, complete with pictures, allowing them a sneak peak into the wooden window cornice making process.

Decorators willing to spend some time creating a customized and professional looking wooden cornice will discover just how cost efficient the process is and will be thrilled just knowing how they saved hundreds, if not more on just one simple cornice. Once the process is learned, it can be repeated over and over again as they can just refer to the e-book that was purchased at <http://easycornice.com>. With this E-Book, you will learn how to easily create your own customized upholstered wooden cornice through step-by-step instructions with detailed pictures that show you how to make your cornice, from A-Z. The instructions will also reveal the planning stage prior to your first step of the actual cornice making process.

Step by step instructions can now be viewed and ordered online for 29.95 with an immediate download at <http://www.easycornice.com>

Short note about the author

Josephine Monty

The creator at EasyCornice gained knowledge through home decorating magazines where she obtained first hand knowledge about cornices. She shows people how to create beautiful upholstered wooden cornices through proven step by step instructions with an instant downloadable ebook.

Easy Cornice was created after the author realized the expense of buying a wooden window cornice. Creator has over 25 years of experience in home decorating.

The author also offers additional information regarding cornices at <http://easycornice.com>. Subscribers receive a free introductory guide.

The author also shows people how to customize beautiful upholstered wooden cornice through proven step by step easy instructions with an instant downloadable e-book that the creator has created at <http://www.easycornice.com>

Step by step instructions can now be viewed and ordered online for 29.95 with an immediate download at <http://www.easycornice.com>

Author: Josephine Monty

Article downloaded from page eioba.com