Your guide to downloads

Oh, we all know that we can download a load of free stuff from the Internet easily. But the best downloads are the ones that DON'T come with 'extra' features like viruses, worms, adware's, spywares, whathaveyounots. It's the truth.

Oh, we all know that we can download a load of free stuff from the Internet easily. But the best downloads are the ones that DON'T come with 'extra' features like viruses, worms, adware's, spywares, whathaveyounots. It's the truth. When you download something free on the Internet, they sometimes come with some kind of a program that will either give you a headache or give your computer a sickness.

You see, downloads are free on the surface. But whenever you download something from the Internet, they want something in return, such as our personal information which is sometimes harmless.

The better way to download things online is to get a download program to help you download things off the Internet. For instance many sites provides FlashGet which is a program that can help you download large files like mp3, programs, songs, videos off the Internet in an organized way.

And another wonderfully amazing software for downloads is the GetRight download manager .This software not only speeds up the download process but it also allows you to download different files from different servers easily and organize it in such a way that you will be able to find the files that you have downloaded very easily. You can download multiple files at the same time without slowing down the speed of download. If the download is interrupted or connection is severed, you can continue the download process from where you left off without having to start the download all over again. GetRight also works with many different types of Internet browsers, i.e., Internet Explorer, FireFox, Opera, Mozilla, Netscape, AOL, MSN, etc. Whenever you download stuff from the Internet using this software, you can get the download without downloading the spywares and adware's that comes with some of these downloads.

Not to be left behind, SpeedBit also provides the same kind of service that GetRight and FlashGet provides, with which , you can download files from the Internet at 500% faster than the usual speed, broadband or not. The focus on SpeedBit is to make the technology of Download Accelarator Plis (DAP) more accessible to anyone in the world. There are tens of millions of people who are currently using SpeedBit to download stuff from the Internet. SpeedBit also helps you sift out the adware's and spywares that comes with most downloadable stuff on the Internet.

Of course, the faster your Internet connection, the faster you will be able to download programs and files from the Internet. Hence, it will make a significant difference whether you're using a Broadband internet connection or a dial-up. Dial-ups are definitely much slower than Broadband. If you're using Broadband and downloading real media files, it may take anywhere between 15 minutes to 45 minutes. However, if you're downloading files from the Internet using dial-up connection, you may have to wait around 30 minutes to 180 minutes to download one single media file.

Therefore, if you're using Broadband and combine with one of this downloading software's, you'll have a far more pleasant experience than those without such privileges.

Dakota Caudilla, journalist, and website builder Dakota Caudilla lives in Texas. He is the owner and co-editor of http://your-free-downloads.com on which you will find a longer, more detailed version of this article.
For more Free Resources http://www.100computertips.com